The Engaged Citizen's Guide to Contacting Elected Officials

Elected officials work for you, their constituents, and they should know what you think. Pro-life citizens can influence public policy by urging their representatives to support pro-life bills and oppose anti-life legislation. Use the tips below and the contact information inside to reach out to the elected officials who represent you.

Do not underestimate the power of your voice. Your efforts in contacting your elected officials do make a difference!

Visit leg.mn.gov to find your district numbers and who represents you in the Minnesota Legislature.

Visit mccl.org for pro-life news, current pro-life legislation in Minnesota, and your legislators' voting records.

General Tips

- Know beforehand your elected official's voting record on life issues. You can check our Legislative Accountability Ratings at mccl.org or contact MCCL to obtain this information.
- Be calm, reasonable, respectful, and politely firm.
- Don't just tell your elected official how you would like him or her to vote on a particular bill. You should also give reasons for your position.
- Press for specific commitments by asking questions such as, "Will you vote for this measure?"
- If you don't have the answer to a question, don't worry. Let your lawmaker know you will get back to him or her, and then do so in a timely manner. Contact MCCL if you would like help finding the answer.
- Whatever your contact method, one of your goals should be to establish a positive relationship with your elected official. For this reason alone, every contact is worthwhile.
- Always thank elected officials for their time, even when they don't vote pro-life!
- Please forward a copy of your communication—and the response you receive from your legislator—to MCCL. If you visited or phoned him or her, write up a summary, note what was said, and forward a copy to MCCL. These can be helpful to our lobbying efforts.
- Contact the MCCL office with questions or for any additional information. We are here to help you!

How to contact: Visit, call, or write

- If you visit your elected official in person, make an appointment in advance, and bring one or two reliable printed materials to leave with him or her.
- If you call, expect to leave a message with an assistant. Make sure you let the assistant know who you are, what issue you are concerned about, and specifically what you are asking of the legislator.
- If you write, email is preferable (time is of the essence), and keep your message concise and easy to read.
